

GORDON CORERA

THE BRITISH SECRET SERVICE IN FACT AND FICTION

FRIDAY 13TH APRIL 2012 AT 7PM
NORTH STAINLEY VILLAGE HALL
RIPON, HG4 3LA

Writers from Graham Greene to Len Deighton, Ian Fleming and John le Carre have all told stories of life and death as a spy. But how much of it is true?

The BBC Security Correspondent
Gordon Corera unveils the Secret Service.

In conversation with the BBC
Foreign Correspondent David Loyn

Talk followed by Q&A and supper
Tickets: £20 inc. a glass of wine on arrival.

Contact: 01423 780449
info@roddyscott.co.uk

Copies of Gordon's book 'Art of Betrayal - Life and Death in the British Secret Service' will be on sale, as well as a new edition of David Loyn's 'Frontline'.

All proceeds to the 'Roddy Scott Foundation' (The Foundation teaches English and IT to the children of a remote community of north eastern Georgia (Caucasus) many of whom are refugees) For more info visit: www.roddyscott.co.uk
Registered Charity No: 1123327